Mutah University staff attitudes towards the crime of human trafficking

* Dr. Ahmed Abdul Salam Majali

Abstract

The study aimed to identify the University of Mutah University staff attitudes towards the crime of human trafficking. In order to achieve the objectives, the study was develop a questionnaire to collect data. A sample of 212 was selected including both male and female employees of Mutah University. The study resulted in the following:

1. The results showed that the overall average of the trends of the University of Mutah University about the crime of human trafficking, according to the factors: (economic, and social) came at a high level.

2. The results indicated that there is no statistically significant differences at the level of significance ($\alpha \leq 0.05$) trends Mutah University staff Nhogerama human trafficking attributed to demographic variables (gender, monthly income, and marital status).

Based on the results, the study came up with some recommendations such as: improve economic and social conditions of the members of the community, work to further toughening sanctions that limit the spread of this crime, and work to inform and educate members of the community to combat the crime of human trafficking.