Private higher Education and It’s Role in the society

Amna Juma Obaid Zayed

Abstract

Higher Education Institutes are considered as creators of Leaders. It is also the way to achieve development, and to provide the society with various human resources. In addition, such institutions seek to develop scientific research fields, as well as evaluating the development experiences in order to utilize the best resource in the society and to spread cultural knowledge and strengthening society values.

Regarding the changes that confront Emirates Society in social and economic development, a lot of demands are forced on the society especially in higher education field. As a result, basic changes took place according to its goals, structure, methods, development requirements, and its relevance to the society.

The aim of this research is to identify the importance of higher education. To achieve this, the research discussed the goals, importance and philosophy of the higher education. In addition, the study dealt with negative and positive roles in society development regarding private higher education, as well as the regulations that are carried out by such institution to achieve marvellous future to the private higher education in the U.A.E.

In conclusion, the study stressed on the challenges and difficulties confronting higher education. As well as, some of the proposals that might reduce the difficulties in such programs, in order to promote the higher education level and to achieve total quality management in higher education institutions.

* Sharjah Police Center
General administration of Sharjah Police
Sharjah, U.A.E.