Study of verse

“The Messenger said: My Lord My Own People Had made this Quran an object of laughter”

*Dr. Asmail Elyaan

Abstract

Multiple Quran interpretation books discuss the differences between the Mecca and Medina Qurans in terms of city of origin for each, length of the verses and the type of instated laws (general vs. detail oriented).

It goes without doubt that Muslims in Mecca endured a lot of torture and injustice, however, the Quran and Prophet Mohammed (PBUH) brought positivity to many aspects of life during that period.

This research – unlike any research before it - sheds light on the optimism demonstrated in the Mecca chapters of the Quran to boost motivation across the Muslim society; religiously, politically, militarily and economically.
